

Dr. Rosemary Stein is a pediatrician and author of "It's a Mom Thing." She has been a practicing medicine for 23 years, serving as director of the International Family Clinic in Burlington, North Carolina for the past 16. Dr. Rose is a highly-regarded expert in childhood development, speaking across the country on child related issues. In her book, "Who Needs a Village? It's a Mom Thing" Dr. Stein offers her expert advice on raising sturdy, success-bound children in today's chaotic world.

Mona Corwin, has inspired thousands of moms across the country as an author, speaker and mentor to America's moms. She is the founder of the MomsLikeUs Academy—a trusted online space that helps moms with strategies, systems and skills so they can crush it at motherhood instead of motherhood crushing them.

Kimberly Fletcher is the president and founder of Moms for America®. She is an experienced homeschool mom of 8 children and has led homeschool co-ops and created curriculum in various subjects. Her greatest love and passion is learning about our history and sharing the story of America. She is the author of "WOMEN: America's Last Best Hope" and contributing writer with Townhall.com.

Rhonda Hair is a family-defending, homemaking, homeschooling mom of eight, ages 2-25. She grew up on a farm in a high mountain valley where her parents taught her to 'make do', work hard, smile, and help others. She loves cooking, reading, singing, growing food and flowers, and learning. Rhonda has spent thirty years teaching people how to make bread and other basic foods, and started a food storage, gardening, and homemaking website in 2010.

Melanie Hempe is a mom of four and founder of ScreenStrong. She educates parents on the negative consequences of excessive screen use and teaches them how to incorporate healthier alternatives that rebuild relationships between their child, their family and the real world.

Melissa Conway

Actively involved in ministry and community outreach for over 25 years, Melissa has served on the board of several Christ-centered, life-affirming non-profit organizations and co-founded a thriving pregnancy resource center and multi-faceted organization that champions the future of children. Since 2010, Melissa has worked primarily with advocacy and grassroots organizations to champion the sanctity of life, defend religious liberty and advance Christian values.